Innovation

ISA provides innovative information security solutions that enable companies to better manage the confidentiality, integrity and availability of their mission-critical IT resources

Positioned as an independent trusted advisor to their clients, ISA is able to architect a security framework that encompasses the spectrum of leading security technologies available worldwide; combined with the array of integration, management and support services required to maintain the effectiveness of the security infrastructure over time.

Differentiation

With the knowledge that security products can be bought and sold by any organisation, ISA has succeeded in differentiating itself over the years by maintaining the highest level of professional and effective solution delivery to their clients.

It is this difference that has contributed towards ISA above-average growth and positioning as being the prominent Managed Security Services provider on the African continent.
